”” ABOUT ME

I'm an environmental anthropologist, cultural historian and creative mind. My work focuses on interdisciplinary sciences, knowledge co-production, narrative cartography, visual storytelling and is built largely on an awareness of culture and integrity.

I have worked with community engagement, SES, citizen and sustainability science. I love to work with youth and communities, create engagement, co-creation and co-production of knowledge and ideas through creative spaces and I have done so through a number of projects around the North and Arctic.

SKILLS

- Interdisciplinary approach
- Project management
- Engagement and integrity
- Sustainability ethics and values
- Creative science and dissemination
- English
